ANNOUNCE FOR SHERIFF

I was the first Tax Collector to set up sub-stations throughout the County to sell car tags. This service saved the car owners time and expense of having to make a trip to the Courthouse to purchase their tags. I also set up tax collection facilities in the Board of Supervisors' Office (with their permission) to collect taxes during the rush tax-collecting time to relieve the crowded condition in the Tax Collector's office. This was a great help to the public in time and service.

APPOINT MRS. SCIANNA CHAIRMAN

NOMINATING COMMITTEE

Dr. M. D. Horne, president of Our Lady of the Gulf Parents Club

announced at Thursday's meeting the appointment of Mrs. John Scianna as chairman of a nominating committee to present a slate of officers for the coming year at the May meeting. Mrs. Shippey and Mrs. Frank Lagarde are co-chairmen.

Mrs. Scianna gave a report on the Easter egg hunt and Easter cake sale and Mrs. Francis Shippey, general chairman of the annual penny party, completed plans for the event with chairman of the various committees.

Monsignor James Hannon announced the Seventh Grade will not be added to the school in September, and he asked parents of children in the Sixth Grade to register them at St. Joseph Academy or St. Stanislaus. Monsignor also said the opening of a kindergarten in September would depend on the number of children enrolled. A minimum of 20 would be required to make the school available, he added.

Joseph Barclay, new member, was introduced to the group.

St. Anne's room was the attendance prize and Mrs. Gilbert Gavett the door prize.

FINNIS CALLS PLAN TO CUT OFF FUNDS RIDICULOUS

WASHINGTON - Senator John Finnis, D-Miss., today called the plan to cut off federal funds to the state "ridiculous."

A recommendation by the Civil Rights Commission regarding the state's refusal to accept the federal funds, he said, is "a recommendation that federal funds be cut off to Mississippi."

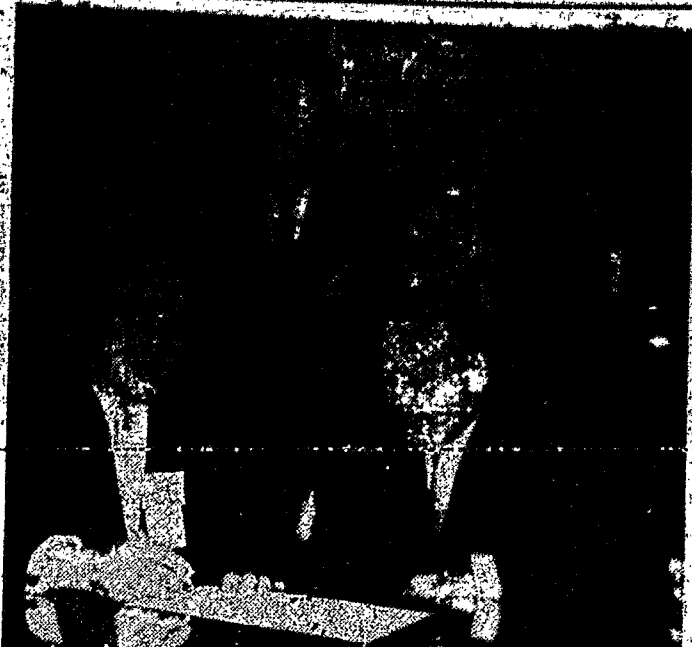

"Two members of the two races in Mississippi live side by side peacefully and harmoniously, without trouble and disturbance. Our only difficulties have been created by paid agitators and headline seekers, imported from outside the state."

TO HOST COUNCIL MEETING 24TH

The Bay St. Louis Home Demonstration Club will host the Hancock County Home Demonstration Council meeting to be held at 2 p. m. Friday, April 24 at the Agriculture Center.

ANNOUNCE WORKSHOP

Mrs. Marcia Hughes, Hancock County Home Demonstration Agent, announced a workshop on Apodan trays and plaques is scheduled for 10 a. m. Monday, April 23 at the Agriculture Center on McCalise Avenue.

OUR COUNTY INCLUDED IN STUDY - Every county in Mississippi will be visited by a survey team from the University of Mississippi this year, under terms of an agreement signed with the Mississippi Economic Council recently for a statewide sales-ratio tax assessment study. The study, aimed at helping attain a more equitable tax assessment system for personal property, is a project of the MEC's taxation committee. Shown looking over the contract are, from left: Dudley Buford, Jackson, chairman of the taxation committee; Mayor Charles Sampson, Greenwood, a committee member; Paul Lowry, project director for the University's bureau of business and economic research; and Robert E. Covington, Jr., Quitman, who heads the special MEC group directing the study.

LIBRARIES NOW GETTING BOOKS TO THE PEOPLE

Librarians have gone into the merchandising business. "Our job is to get books to the people," said Mrs. Lura G. Currier, Director, Mississippi Library Commission. "We have a product to sell and a very good one, there is as much competition in the world of ideas as in any other field."

People want conveniently located libraries, where books are readily accessible. The easier it is to check out a book, the more likely it is that a person will read. For this reason we work toward making books available through many outlets. Mississippi's library program is attempting to combine wholesale operations so that the user will have more retail outlets.

The "wholesale outlet" are Mississippi's nine regional library systems. They encompass two or more counties and as many as 15 municipalities. Each library in the system maintains its own identity, yet shares the cost with other libraries in hiring a professionally trained librarian as its director. Administrative work such as processing and cataloging books is conducted at one central location for the entire system, reducing greatly the individual cost to each library. Through the cooperative interchange of books, each library is able to offer a good collection of up-to-date materials in many fields.

EASEMENTS OBTAINED FOR SPUR

A total of $81,875 was awarded to property owners in two special eminent domain cases here in Hancock County involving right-of-way sought by the Southern Railroad Co. for construction of a railroad from Nicholson to the Mississippi Test Center, site of NASA's Saturn rocket test facilities.

Jury verdicts returned at Bay St. Louis awarded $28,000 to Wiley Frierson and wife and $53,875 to Isaac M. Frierson and wife. The properties are located near the former community of Gainesville which is being razed to make way for the huge rocket test site.

The Wiley Frierson case was heard Saturday and the Isaac Frierson case was heard Monday before special Judge A. Frank Selph of Kiln.

Isaac M. Frierson is beat two member of the Hancock County board of supervisors. Otis said no further eminent domain proceedings have been filed by the railroad.

SEVERAL WAYS TO BUILD ADEQUATE FALLOUT SHELTER

State College, Miss. - There are several ways to build a fallout shelter and a number of factors to consider, according to Charles W. Sappington, rural defense specialist of the Cooperative Extension Service.

One of the first factors is the need for a shelter. Throughout history people have provided shelter for themselves from the dangers of the time in which they lived.

"A nuclear attack on the United States could cause radioactive fallout to cover most of the country in dangerous amounts. A shelter will provide protection against this fallout," Mr. Sappington stated.

In building the shelter one of the most important considerations is size. A fallout shelter should have at least 10 square feet of floor space for each person that is to occupy it in an emergency.

Additional space will be needed for the storage of food, water and other supplies.

Another important factor in building a shelter is location. Many farm homes in Mississippi have storm cellars that can be converted to fallout shelters with little additional labor.

Some homes have basements. A shelter can be made in the corner of the basement at very low cost.

Low cost shelters can be built using earth for shielding. Often a trench in a hillside can be covered over with logs or heavy lumber with two to three feet of earth on top to provide an adequate shelter. Care should be taken that the roof is strong enough to hold up the weight of the earth.

Often shelters of permanent construction have other uses when not needed for shelter. They can be used for an extra bedroom, utility room, recreation room, store room, workshop, and many other uses.

Another important consideration in building a fallout shelter is drainage. A shelter filled with water will do little good in the event of an emergency. If possible the shelter should be located in a well-drained area. Some method for removing any water that might accumulate in the shelter should be provided.

Ventilation will need to be furnished in most shelters. This can be done with a blower similar to the ones used in farm shops. A filter on the intake pipe will remove the fallout dust.

"Remember, with a family fallout shelter to save your lives, you can survive," Mr. Sappington said.

KNEIP DEATH IN ANSLEY

Edward Leo Kneip died suddenly at 3 a. m. Monday, April 23, at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Jules LaFrance in Ansley.

Born November 5, 1916, in the State of Washington, he was a resident of 1216 Maryland Drive, Kenner, La. He was the husband of Cecelia Marie Rodriguez Kneip, father of Colleen Kneip, Kenners; stepfather of Mrs. Gwen Hentzmann Pendergraft, Fairbanks, Alaska; and Wayne Anthony Heitzmann, Westfield, Maine.

Funeral services were held at 1:45 p. m. Wednesday from Riemann's Fahey-Whitfield Funeral Home chapel, with interment in Bayou Caddy Cemetery, Ansley, Miss.

BAY HD CLUB MEETS AT GRAY HOME

The Bay St. Louis Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon at the North Beach home of Mrs. E. F. Gray with Mesdames Mary Roman and Harry Wardell and Miss Barbara Gray as co-hostesses.

The thought for the month "Capacity for doing increases according to the doing" was announced.

After the pledge of allegiance the devotion was led by Mrs. Gray.

The roll call was answered with "Something I have made for my home."

Plans were made to observe National Home Demonstration week in May. Mrs. T. P. Clapp presented the study topic, on driver education and legislation.

Members exhibited many accessories which they made for their homes.

Mrs. Marcia Hughes, agent, reminded members of the dress review April 23 and also of the council meeting April 26 and the workshop April 30.

Hostesses for May and June were selected.

A social hour followed the business session which was conducted by Mrs. C. R. Beyer, president.

ENTERTAIN WITH AFTER-REHEARSAL PARTY

A profusion of roses decorated the John Benigno home Thursday evening when Mrs. Benigno and her sister-in-law Mrs. Anthony Benigno entertained for their niece Miss Jo Ann Benigno at an after-rehearsal party.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a silver cake knife and Mr. Graite gave her an electric organ.

Miss Benigno and Mr. Graite were married Saturday in Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

Attending were the honoree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Benigno, Misses Kathleen Benigno and Azalia Favre, Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Graite, Mr. Graite Jr., of Port Charlotte, Fla., Sgt. Happiness isn't formed with facial muscles. It is deeper than a smile. Its brightness is merely mirrored in shining eyes.

Happiness is the warm fertile climate with which God has endowed each human soul. It will flourish as long as our hearts and minds are exposed to the radiance of God. And, for those who discover early the spiritual center of happiness, no storm of life can ever penetrate so deeply as to chill the joy of the soul.

Are you less conscious of that inner happiness than once? Perhaps you're living in the shadows . . . groping in dark forests . . . only a glimmer of God's truth filtering through.

Bring your soul out into the sunlight. Seek joy where it is found. The Church points the way.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

MISSISSIPPI
INCOME TAX LAW

Differences between the State and Federal Statutes

The Mississippi Income Tax Law, when it was modernized or amended in 1954, was modeled closely after the Federal Income Tax Law then in effect. Since that time, a number of changes have been made in the Federal Income Tax Law.

The principal one affects individuals whose income is from salaries and wages. These individuals, and they comprise a large number of our taxpayers, pay their tax by withholding from their weekly or monthly earnings. The tax thus paid is remitted directly to the Internal Revenue Service by the employer, and the taxpayer has little concern therewith. All other taxpayers are required to submit estimates and, in effect, pay their tax during the year for which it is paid. Your Mississippi income tax liability is paid after the close of the period for which the return is filed. There is no withholding, and inquiries relating to refunds due and amounts withheld are often addressed to the Commissioner of Income Tax, whereas these matters come within the scope of the duties performed by the Director of Internal Revenue.

Another difference which concerns many taxpayers is the long term short-term capital gain and loss provision. This provision is a part of the Federal Income Tax Law, but is not to be considered in determining gain or loss realized from the sale of real and personal property reported for State income tax purposes. On the term or period of time that the property was held by the taxpayer.

Another provision contained in the Federal Income Tax Law, but which is not a part of the State Income Tax Law, is percentage depletion. For State income tax purposes, natural assets may be depleted, but such depletion is based upon cost, and limited thereto. The arbitrary allowance of 27 1/2%, allowed by the Internal Revenue Code as a deduction from the gross income realized from mineral assets, is not to be considered for Mississippi income tax purposes. The cost of the mineral asset must always be determined and if there is no cost, which occurs in many cases, there is no deduction for depletion. The depletion deduction for Mississippi income tax purposes is limited to 15% of the gross income, not to exceed 30% of the net income, but the aggregate of such deductions over a period of years may not exceed the cost.

For Federal income tax purposes, all taxes paid, other than Federal income estate, gift, import, etc., may be deducted. For State income tax purposes, all taxes paid to a taxing authority may be deducted, with the exception of income taxes (of any nature), inheritance, and gift taxes.

For Federal income tax purposes, an exemption may be claimed for each spouse and each dependent. In the State Income Tax Law, there is a joint exemption for married persons in the sum of $7,000.00 and a $5,000.00 exemption for single individuals. A head of family is a single person, maintaining a home for a dependent and exemption is $7,000.00.

On the Federal income tax return, certain interest on obligations of the United States Government must be reported. For State income tax purposes, all interest

BEEF CATTLE

Some guides for stepping up profits from a beef cattle operation include: Increase the calf crop percentage; improve the quality of your cattle; set up your calving on a seasonal basis and eliminate summer calving. Cull your old and poor producing cows.

Save your top heifers for replacements and breed them to calve at 30 to 36 months of age.

Give your cattle plenty of pasture and avoid overgrazing. Keep enough good quality, strong bulls. Vaccinate, dehorn, castrate and brand as recommended. Make sure you have enough equipment for handling cattle - corals, chutes, etc.

Set up a good record system and keep it up. do a good job of marketing. This is most important.

HOME GARDENING

Some April jobs in the home garden include keeping an eye open for early insects. Sevin is a good, general insecticide for home gardens.

Plant vegetables to plant now include carrots, beets, leaf lettuce, mustard, turnips, and collards if you have not been able to plant them earlier. Also plant tender crops like corn, all beans, squash, cucumbers, New Zealand spinach, okra, and field peas. Set eggplant, peppers and tomato plants.

Plant asparagus seed for fall crops. Plant a few extra rows of peas, corn and beans for freezing.

HAY

Did you have enough hay for the past winter? Few did! Here is one way to help make more hay this year.

You can increase the production of established Bahia grass simply by fertilizing. Top dress with 500 to 600 pounds of mixed fertilizer to the acre now and applied by the United States on its obligations should be excluded. From and after January 1, 1952, the Mississippi statute contains no reference to medical expense and insurance premiums. For Federal income tax purposes, there is a deduction for medical expenses.

Dividends from national banks may not be taxed, unless the state wherein the bank is situated has elected to tax the dividends received by their shareholders. This exempts from taxation, for Mississippi income tax purposes, dividends paid by national banks. For Federal income purposes, this exemption does not exist.

For State income tax purposes, service pay received by members of the armed forces of the United States should be reported, if the recipient is a legal resident or citizen of Mississippi. Where the recipient is stationed is not considered.

Every single person whose income exceeds $5,000.00 and every married couple whose joint income exceeds $7,000.00, is urged to file a report. A statement of the income and deductions claimed will suffice. This will prevent correspondence at a later date. It will reduce the cost of administration. It will be a definite contribution to the improvement of the service which the Commissioner of Income Tax and his staff are trying to render.

SI CORLEY
MAKES STATEMENT TO STATE VOTERS

I hereby announce for re-election as Commissioner of Agriculture, subject to the will of the people August 6, 1963.

In asking the people to re-elect me as their Commissioner of Agriculture, I do so strictly on my own record, without obligation to any individual, group or faction. My total obligation is to the people of Mississippi. The energy and ability that I possess is dedicated to their welfare.

I am taking no part, whatsoever, in any other race and I will be free, as always, to work with the people elect to other offices, and with them, I will continue my efforts to increase the income of our people for a greater and more prosperous State.

I am proud of the small part I have had in the tremendous progress which has already been made in agriculture and industry, which has been made possible through the splendid cooperation of all groups in Mississippi.

In announcing for re-election as Commissioner of Agriculture, I am not unmindful of the importance for experienced leadership in a day of rapid changing agriculture and its importance to the economy and welfare of the people of Mississippi.

I am indeed grateful for the record vote given me in 1959 and will appreciate your continued support.

Sincerely,
SI CORLEY

ply 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre following the first cutting of hay.

Fertilized Bahia grass will have less weeds and be of better quality than non-fertilized Bahia grass. With recommended amounts of fertilizer, Bahia grass will yield four to six tons of good hay per season. If not fertilized it will produce only one or two tons per acre. Fewer weeds can grow in fast growing Bahia grass.

LAWN FERTILIZATION

Now is the time to fertilize lawn areas for the growing season. Fertilizer requirements per 1,000 square feet for the different lawn grasses are:

Bermuda grass - 7 to 9 pounds of nitrogen, 3 pounds of phosphate and 6 pounds of potash.

SUDAN AND MILLET

Plant Sudan or millet now and get grazing in five to six weeks. Dairymen especially are urged to make early plantings of at least one-half acre per cow to give extra grazing in May and June.

Apply at least 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre at planting time. If phosphate and potash are needed, use 500 pounds per acre of a high analysis fertilizer to the acre. Then apply more nitrogen later if needed.

CIVIL DEFENSE

Principles of protection from radio active fallout can be summed up in four words - distance, time, shielding and decontamination.

Of these, shielding and decontamination are the ones you can do most about. Shielding includes fallout shelters. The heavier the material the better job it does of protection. For instance, earth and concrete make much better shielding materials than does paper.

Decontamination means removing the source of the radiation. This will have to be done by washing the fallout off buildings, concrete feedlots, livestock and farm machinery. In doing this, protective clothing should be worn to prevent radio active fallout from coming into contact with the skin.

PASTURE WEED CONTROL

When weeds start growing fast is the time to spray or clip for control. Use 2,4-D according to recommendations for spraying pastures. Remember, weeds take up moisture, plant food and growing room that good grasses and legumes need.

CRITICAL TIME FOR GAME BIRDS

Come April, most game animals have it made. But for our game birds the treat trial is just beginning. Will nature and man permit them to nest and bring off their broods?

Some doves are probably already nesting. One of their biggest problems is windy weather. Doves are poor nest-builders and high winds can blow their nests all to pieces, hurling eggs or young to the ground.

Here in Mississippi, the bulk of the quail population starts nesting the latter part of May and the first part of June. The bulk of the first hatch comes off the first week in July. There are some earlier broods - some as early as the middle of June. Nesting quail have many perils to confront. All kinds of predators will feast on quail eggs - or young quail. One of the quail's worst enemies is unfavorable weather during the nesting season. A certain amount of moisture is necessary for the eggs to mature, and extremely hot, dry weather can play havoc with the quail hatch.

Wild turkeys begin nesting this month. They face no mowing threat, but clutches and broods can be wiped out by carelessly or deliberately set fires and by over grazing of some nesting ranges.

The ducks' poignant problem with drought and drainage is too well known to detail here. The flyways are sending north a slightly improved breeding population. Here in the Mississippi Flyway, our most popular duck, the mallard, has a 37 per cent increase over last year's winter inventory. May they find the water that's the production key to all ducks.

PLANT FULL
ALLOTMENT, STATE
FARMERS URGED

Agricultural leaders meeting here recently urged Mississippi farmers to make extra cotton profits by planting every acre or fraction of an acre that is allotted. By doing so, the group said this will help maintain Mississippi's favorable national position as a cotton state.

Boswell Stevens, president of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation, said that "planting a full allotment is more important in 1963 because we have the 11 per cent reduced national allotment. If the trend continues downward, I will have a serious effect not only on the overall economy of our state, but on the individual," he added.

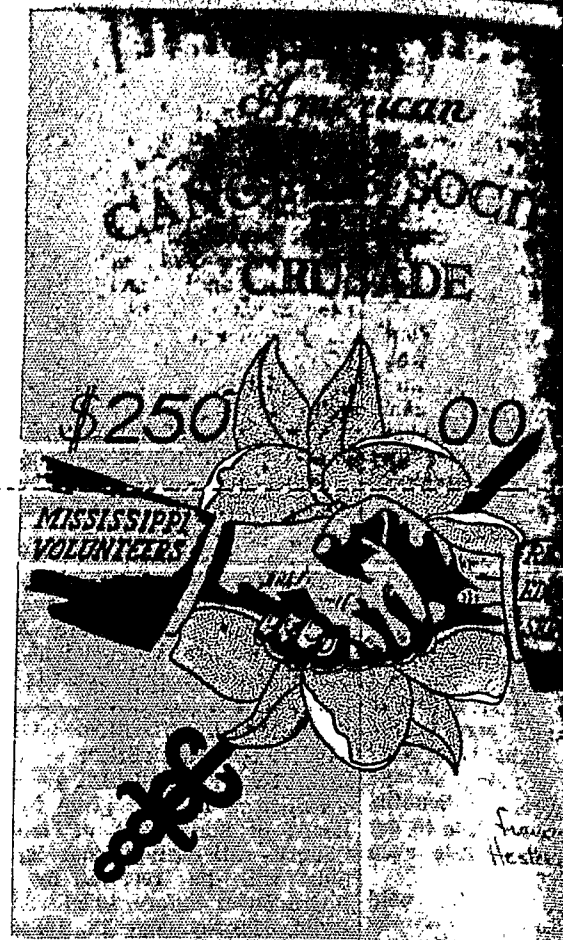

It was pointed out during the meeting that failure to plant 99, 036 available cotton acres resulted in a loss of more than $19 million in the state last year.

Agricultural leaders pointed out that another good cotton year is shaping up for the state. This prediction is based on the good land condition, low rate of boll weevil survival, and the heavy buying of seed, fertilizer and other supplies.

WAVELAND RESIDENT
LOSES FATHER

Funeral services for Jules DeJarlès, 77, who died April 11, in New Orleans, were held Saturday from the Funeral Home of Jacob Schuen and Son, Inc., with religious rites at Holy Rosary Catholic Church. Interment was in St. John's Cemetery, New Orleans.

Mr. DeJarlès was the father of Mrs. Carl Gustafson Sr., of Waveland, Miss.

Attending the funeral from here were his granddaughter, Mrs. Floyd Wiltz, Mr. Wiltz and children Don and Lisa; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dillmann and Mrs. Elsie De Rocha.

Mr. Gustafson, who came down from Chicago for the funeral, returned Tuesday accompanied by Mrs. Gustafson who will remain for a visit of several months.

Mr. Gustafson is associated with the Chicago Tribune.

ARNOLD DEATH
IN NEW ORLEANS

Mrs. Dora Nécasse Arnold, 69, wife of Thomas J. Arnold, died at 12:30 a. m. Monday, April 22 in New Orleans.

A native of Kiln, Miss., she had resided in New Orleans for the past 25 years. She was the mother of Mrs. Stephen Faucci, and Mrs. Thomas Karl, both of Bay St. Louis; Mrs. R. G. Edwards, Lake Charles, La.; Mrs. Clifton Zimmerman, James H. Harold all of New Orleans; and Horace E. Arnold, San Diego, Calif.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Kenneth Gatewood, Mrs. Melba Haas, both of Kiln; and Lester Nécasse of California and nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Auxiliary Funeral Home of Jacob Schuen and Son, Inc., Tuesday morning with a Requiem Mass at Sacred Heart of Jesus Church.

Interment was in Garden of Memories, New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Graite Jr. of Port Charlotte, Fla., are spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Benigno.
